MILLBURY WATER COMPANY,

HERBERT A. RYAN,

Treasurer.

MILLBURY, Mass., February 28th, 1900.

ENGINEERS' REPORT.

MILLBURY FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the Town of Millbury:

GENTLEMEN:— In compliance with the Town ordinance relating to the Fire Department, I submit the following report for the year ending February, 1900.

On April 30, the gentlemen appointed by your Honorable Board to serve the Town as fire engineers for the ensuing year, met and organized in the following manner:

Chief, Wm. E. Horne; 1st assistant, C. C. Longley; 2d assistant, C. H. Soule; 3d assistants, A. H. Bachelor, R. F. Brown, and J. H. Ferguson clerk and treasurer. The Board have held regular meetings the first Monday of each month, at 7.30 P. M.

Manual Force.

The manual force of the Department consists of Chief Engineer, four assistant Engineers, and sixty-six men; this number does not include drivers.

The Department has responded to sixteen alarms, and six still alarms.

Apparatus.

The apparatus of the Department are in first-class order with the exception of the wagons, which will have to be painted and consist of the following: Two steam fire engines, one hand engine, two hose wagons, one ladder truck, one chemical and three hose reels.

Fire Alarm.

The expenses of the Fire Alarm has been considerable this year on account of the ice storm in the Spring.

Department Houses.

The Town owns two engine houses, one at Bramanville, and one at Grassy Hill; both are out of repair and unfit for engine quarters. The house at Bramanville is so small that the poles of both engine and hose wagon have to be taken off to close the doors when the pieces of apparatus are in the house.

I would recommend that the Town remodel the house or sell it and build a new one as soon as possible.

The old engine house at Grassy Hill is of little value. It sits in a mill pond, and is bound to be damp at all times, making a first-class place to rot hose and rust and ruin the apparatus. Better quarters should be provided if a machine is to be kept in that part of the Town.

Horses.

The Town should purchase three horses, one horse and swing harness should be for the chemical and one pair for hose wagon or ladder truck. The money paid out each year for hauling the hook and ladder will go a long way towards buying a pair of horses. As it is now, we cannot take a piece of apparatus out for drill without hiring horses. Consequently, the men get no practice until they are called into action at a fire, and then they cannot be expected to work quick and effective. If we owned a pair of horses they could be used for drill work alternately on each piece of apparatus, so that both hose companies and the ladder men will soon get the needed practice for quick work.

Hose.

The amount of service hose in the Department is 5,200 feet.

Salvage Property.

We have none; but we should have four (4) rubber covering blankets, and I would recommend that they be purchased at once and be carried on the hose wagons.

Expenditures.

The expenditure of the Department in the past year has been $3,152.78. Cash on hand from pay roll, $31.27.

Firemen's Relief Association.

The Firemen's Relief Association, which was started four years ago, is quite a help to Millbury Fire Department, and we hope it will continue to prosper, and that the Association will receive from time to time donations from the services rendered by the firemen at the fires.

We would take this opportunity to thank the men of the Department for the efficient and prompt manner in which they have responded to the call of the Board, and to the citizens that have so generously aided the Department whenever they have been called upon.

Fourteen persons have received full support at the Almshouse and sixteen at the Insane Hospitals, and 198 have received partial support at a net cost to the town of $6,374.30. The appropriation of last year, $4,000.00, was far too small, and we would recommend an appropriation of $5,500.00 for the ensuing year.

Selectmen of Millbury.

Auditor's Report.

To the Citizens of Millbury:

I herewith respectfully submit my Annual Report.

I have examined the accounts of the Town's various officials and believe them to be correct and properly vouched for. I found in my examination of the various accounts a decided improvement over preceding years, making the task less arduous. There is still a tendency to individual preference in the style of books selected for recording.

With reference to certain newspaper comment, I will say that it was without reason or sense, as well as unjust.

As regards Sunday auditing, I have this year, as in the past years of my services accommodated my examinations in almost every instance to the desires of the individual officials. On my first visit to the various officials this year, I found none quite ready for me—notably in one instance, where it was twice heralded in the daily papers that certain accounts awaited auditing. Such misrepresentation, calculated evidently to deceive the citizens of the town, merits only the contempt of all fair-minded and honorable people.

I have one recommendation to make, and it is an important one in its relation to the Town's financial affairs. It is my conclusion, after four years of experience as Auditor, that the distribution of all moneys should be made through one source, and that source should be the Town Treasurer; for he alone, of all the town officials, is under bonds. And he should, in addition to the above, be required to keep all the accounts of the Town. This would make the various officials of the Town's administrative bureau, executive officials only, and do away with the handling of large sums of money by men who are not properly bonded. If you will examine your town records you will see that the different Boards and Commissioners have expended approximately the sums of money as shown below, viz :

Overseers of Poor.....	$7,500 00
Board of Fire Engineers.....	3,000 00
Road Commissioners	3,500 00
Commissioners of Cemeteries.....	550 00

This is all expended without any reliable safeguards being provided against losses by error or dishonesty.

While I believe that the officials of this Town are perfectly honest, yet the opportunities are given for dishonesty with no corresponding assurances of recovery. This would be entirely obviated if the course outlined above is followed. It is almost unnecessary to state that the Treasurer's present salary should be increased proportionately with the increased work involved in the plan recommended.

Yours respectfully,

GUSTAVE A. NEUDECK,

Auditor.

SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Citizens of Millbury:

We herewith submit for your inspection our annual report which in general contains a statement of the condition of our schools and school buildings and an itemized account of receipts and disbursements.

The condition of our schools so far as it pertains to excellence of scholarship, to ability and character of the teachers and superintendent, to the adopting of best methods of instruction and in fact, to everything which tends to producing best results in education, is as good as can reasonably be expected. That few changes were made in the teachers during the past year is our good fortune. Competent teachers are engaged and are conscientiously giving efficient service for comparatively low salaries. During the past year it became necessary on account of increased attendance to have another assistant teacher for the lower grades in the Union and Providence Street schools. This year your committee considered it advisable to have Drawing taught by a special teacher, and the services of Mrs. Greeley were procured. The detailed report of school work is furnished by the Superintendent, and may be found on the following pages. Appended to and made a part of our report is a brief history of the High School, which was prepared by Mr. John F. Roache.

School Buildings.

Except as hereinafter mentioned, the school buildings are in good repair. For a long time past, but particularly now, we have been confronted with the difficulties of crowding large schools into small and insufficient school rooms. In 1897, it was necessary for your then committee to hire additional school room in the Farnsworth Block. Such a course afforded temporary relief, but only deferred the day when the town, rather than the committee, should provide the necessary school room. The lower grades at the Union and Providence Street Buildings are cramped for want of room. Aside from the necessity of providing school room for the increased attendance there is another difficulty. Joseph Dyson, State Inspector of Public Buildings, has sent your committee an official notification that the Union Building does not comply with the requirement of law pertaining to heating and ventilation. He has further notified your committee that a similar condition of affairs exists at the school room in Farnsworth Block and at Providence Street Building. That the tax-payers are generous to the public schools is attested by the fact that in proportion of school appropriation to assessed valuation Millbury stands 84 in the list of 353 towns of the Commonwealth.

But we are compelled by our present needs to take immediate action. But three courses are open to us: a, to hire extra school rooms; b, to build an addition on the present Union Building; c, to build a new eight-room brick building with all the modern improvements. The first course seems inadvisable, both because it would be difficult to grade the pupils so good results would follow and because suitable and accessible room is not available. The second course while preferable to the first is objectionable for the following reasons: a, the present Union Building as to its walls, floors, foundation, windows, etc., is of ancient construction and would have to be entirely remodelled. The foundation walls are too light and are laid dry. An addition would necessitate the cutting of new windows and thus weaken the already too weak walls. b, the cost of an addition would nearly approach the cost of a new building and when the work was all completed we would have an old and not a new building.

From the information we receive your Committee consider it for the best interest of the town, as well as of the schools, to advise and recommend the building of a new building, either on the present site or upon another and different site to be selected by you. It is our further desire to inform you that no extra teachers will be added if a new building is erected, but the scattered and crowded schools will be given ample room in new building. Some action must be taken by the town and with a view to economy as well as to the welfare of the schools we recommend the building of a new eight-room brick building.

During the year one of our members, D. Edmund March, sent his resignation. Business and personal interests compelled him to change his residence, and it was with a mutual regret that he ceased to co-operate with us. His work on the board was conscientious and earnest and his one aim was to promote the welfare of our schools.

Respectfully submitted,

A. ARMSBY,

THOMAS H. SULLIVAN.

School Committee.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the School Committee of Millbury:

GENTLEMEN: After nearly seven years service in your schools, I again submit to you my annual report of the condition and needs of the public schools.

School Statistics.

The statistical tables accompanying this report are for the school year, from September, 1898, to June, 1899, inclusive. These statistics end in June, to meet the requirements of the State Board of Education, and to make the State educational reports from all cities and towns uniform.

From the last report of the State Board of Education we find "The cost of schooling each pupil in the average membership of the public schools was $25.63," and "the cost of text-books and supplies for each child was $1.50" in the whole State. In Millbury, the cost of schooling each child was $19.49 last year and $18.94 this year; the cost of text-books and supplies for each pupil was $1.24, both last year and this.

From these statistics we see that the average expense of educating a child in the State is about a third larger than in Millbury; and the cost of supplies about a fifth more. Evidently the school department in this town is managed economically.

Below I give the attendance statistics of our schools from September, 1899, to February, 1900 :

The above table shows that the High School, the lower rooms in the Union Building and the Center school (Farnsworth Block) are so crowded that there is not sufficient air capacity nor enough furniture to accommodate the pupils. There are six rooms besides the High School with a registration above fifty and seven with an average membership above forty. The best educators are unanimous in the opinion that to accomplish good work the maximum number of pupils per teacher should not exceed forty; while many claim that thirty to thirty-five are enough. An intelligent Englishman, who recently visited the Millbury schools, said he found many things to praise, but that he must severely criticize the crowding of so many pupils into some of the rooms. One of the best primary schools which I have visited had only thirty desks in each room. This crowded condition of our lower rooms makes it impossible for teachers to accomplish the best results; while the huddling together of so many little ones in unsanitary quarters is injurious to both health and morals. The discipline is necessarily lax; and many things which need the teacher's attention escape her notice. One teacher tells me that on stormy days, when she has from thirty-five to forty pupils present, she can do much more and better work than when nearly sixty are in the room. She adds: "It is such a relief to have a school small enough to be properly managed and successfully instructed." For the benefit of both children and teachers some measure of relief should be adopted at once.

Value of Education.

The country which had the best system of education in ancient times was Greece; and she produced the largest number of great men and contributed most to the world's civilization. The Hebrews gave their children the best religious instruction; and so from this people has come the most remarkable religious influence the world has known.

Among modern nations England, Germany and the United States have made the deepest and strongest impression on the world's history; and these countries have the best and freest systems of public schools. That the American public schools are the foundation of our free institutions is generally acknowledged. I believe that our nation would crumble to ruins if all the public schools should close for twenty years; for we have a heterogeneous population which these schools alone can unify and mold into good citizens. And yet the amount of money expended on our schools is small compared with the large results obtained.

Condition of Our Schools.

For the most part the town schools are in excellent condition. We have an able, conscientious corps of teachers who are doing what they can to instruct their pupils in the various studies and to improve their moral and physical condition. I believe every dollar expended on our schools yields an hundred fold.

Many people seem to think that the boys and girls should leave the schools accurate scholars and all ready for any business they may choose. This is a great mistake. Accuracy is only gained by constant practice, and that generally on very narrow lines. Constancy, readiness and good judgment are acquired only by large experience, or are inherited from fortunate ancestors. It is natural, too, for children to be changeable and inaccurate, and even careless. Many adults never outgrow these childish traits. As we know not what the children's future calling will be, we must give them a broad training, lead them towards high ideals, make sure that they master the great principles involved in the various branches of school work and that they form good habits of thought and action. Within the range of their ability and experience, I find many of our pupils careful thinkers and quite accurate workers. As soon as we step beyond their range of vision, we find them guessing and blundering; but during each year their mental horizon broadens and their capacity for work increases.

Course of Study.

The revised outline in History, which extends historical study to the lower grades in the form of biography and story with many references to poetry and song, has been in use one year; and is giving excellent results. This subject has been so correlated with language and reading that it has not added to the burden of school work; but has given the children much historical information and placed before them high ideals, illustrated by the lives of the best and greatest Americans. We hope this course in History will do much towards Americanizing the children of various races, mold them into a homogeneous people, and aid in making them good, patriotic citizens. All the various studies are now carefully outlined, except Geography, which we hope soon to have ready. We believe the course of study now in use in our schools is both educative and practical.

Departmental Work.

The departmental plan of teaching, which has been so successful at the Burbank school during the past two years, has been extended to grades V. to VIII. inclusive, in both the Union and Providence Street buildings. In consequence the work in these grades has shown marked improvement. The principal has charge of the grammar school room in the morning and exchanges with the teacher of the intermediate room in the afternoon, each teaching certain branches (as arithmetic) to all the grades in both rooms. This makes the work in each subject more uniform and gives the teacher more time for preparation, while it enables him to concentrate his attention on a few studies and become more expert in teaching his special branches. The authority of the principals of the three large buildings has been enlarged; so that he takes a deeper interest in the other rooms in his school and works in closer harmony with his teachers.

Teachers' Meetings.

Teachers' meetings have been held as usual thru the year. The teachers attended regularly and manifested much interest in the discussion of the various topics, such as the methods of teaching the different branches of study, the moral influence and aims of the schools, and the needs of the individual children. At one of the spring meetings Dr. C. F. Hodge of Clark University gave a very instructive talk on Nature Study; and at a winter meeting Mr A. W. Clark, supervisor of penmanship in Melrose, gave an excellent talk on Vertical Writing.

High School.

The High school has had another prosperous year; and registered 109 pupils, the largest number in its history with the greatest average membership. The course in English is continually improving and producing good results. We wish both pupils and parents could realize the supreme importance of this study which is the foundation of all our school work; for then the students would give it the time and thot it deserves. I hope the day is not far off when a commercial course with type writing and stenography can be added to the curriculum.

At my request Principal Roache has prepared a short history of the school and a list of the graduates. I belive his report will be of great interest and value to all interested in the High school and especially to the Alumni Association.

Drawing.

Believing that Drawing lessons, properly taught, contribute much towards the development of both hand and brain, and that this branch of education is not only of aesthetic but of great practical value; we have restored this subject to its rightful place in the school curriculum. After a year's experience without a special teacher, we found the desired results were not obtained; so Mrs. Greeley was engaged as supervisor of drawing and began work in October. Altho she has been in the schools but half a year, by her thoro scholarship and intelligent methods, she has imparted her enthusiasm to the pupils and obtained excellent results thruout the schools. An examination of the children's drawings will convince any one that money spent on this department is yielding an enormous interest. A concise report on drawing follows:

Mr. C. S. Lyman,
Superintendent of Schools.

DEAR SIR:—It is a pleasure to again submit to you a statement of our work in connection with art instruction in our schools.

The pupils have taken up the work with great interest, as is shown by the large amount of drawing they have willingly done outside of school hours.

To state briefly, the course includes :

1. CONSTRUCTION—The making of working drawings from which objects may be constructed

2. REPRESENTATION—Illustrating how the appearance of a group of models differs from the facts concerning it.

3. POSE DRAWING—An effort to represent the children's play-mates and the different domestic animals, and also to show what is actually before them, not what is in their minds.

4. Ornament as applied to both historic and modern art.

5. Design, decoration, picture study, and the copying of good examples.

We have emphasized particularly the brush work, using both ink and water colors, and in this connection we made a study of the drawing books used in the schools of Japan.

It has been our purpose to work, not wholly for the present results, but that the work may be done by right methods, so that it shall be of practical and helpful value to the pupil.

We feel that we cannot too strongly emphasize the importance of surrounding our children with attractive walls, decorated with the best examples of old and modern masters.

Respectfully submitted,

BESSIE WATERS GREELEY.

February 14, 1900.

Singing.

The instruction in singing has been continued thru the year and has afforded the pupils much pleasure as well as profit. I am glad to report excellent progress all along the line. Now that our schools are finished with suitable and thorough teachers of music and drawing, I believe our children enjoy as valuable educational privileges as the cities furnish. Miss Laird reports as follows:—

Report of Music.

Mr. C. S. Lyman,
Superintendent of Schools.

It has been wisely said that we cannot expect to stand still; we either advance or go back. This must be applicable to music as to everything else.

It has been a pleasure to me to see the advance which the pupils have made in music over last year and the growth seems wonderful in view of the short period of study.

While at first the rudiments had to be taught in each school, now the advance in music has made it feasible to grade the schools in this as in other respects.

In the upper grammar schools a more advanced book is now needed, as they have very thoroly studied the present one and should have the help and encouragement which a more suitable reader would give. I am glad to be able to say that I look forward to my weekly visits in the schools with much pleasure, for the classes are generally responsive and their work does them great credit.

Mr. Ripley says:—

“Whosoever teaches art truly, does more than merely train the eye and the hand, the ear and the voice, that the pupil may see and copy, may hear and imitate. True art education stimulates the creative faculty so that the pupil acts, not in obedience to the teacher's command but in response to the impulses of his own expanding spirit."

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE MAY LAIRD.

Many think the "Golden Age" was in the past. We hear the old folks tell of the good old times when they were young and of the wonderful works accomplished by the old district school. But in spite of these bright colored pictures, a careful study of past records will show clearly that during each century since the Christian era progress has been made, and that the nineteenth century marks the most wonderful progress of all time. During the recent decades of this century greater advancement has been made than during many previous centuries. Think of the great forward steps in science and invention; think of the abundance of material comforts which even the industrious poor may share. And today an education fully equal to the old time college education is furnished by our public schools free to all children, rich and poor alike. All that is required of the child is a healthy body, a bright mind, and the determination to make the most of the great opportunities placed before him; then all the fields of usefulness and advancement are open to him. Surely this is the best period of the world's history. And we believe the twentieth century will be more golden in its opportunities than the nineteenth.

In closing I wish to thank the committee and teachers for their co-operation in placing our public schools on their present high plane of usefulness.

Respectfully submitted,

C. S. LYMAN,

Superintendent of Schools.

High School Superintendent's Report.

Mr. C. S. Lyman,

Superintendent of Schools.

The following is the report of the High School for the past year. June 22, 1899, these scholars were graduated from the school :

English Course.

Cornelia Eliza Bigford.
Florence Gertrude Mee.
Maude Estelle Van Ornum.
Edward Francis Kinniery.
Alexander Storey Macduff.
Henry Tyler Pierce.

Latin-English Course.

Jennie Florence Cunningham.
Gracia Morse Hakes.
Beulah Amanda Merriam.
Nellie Maude Stowe.

The class presented the school with several books for use in the school library, and the committee has added a number to the reference library, so that the school has a good collection of books for general reading and reference.

Several pieces of apparatus have been purchased for the physical laboratory.

The number of pupils in the school is large. Since September, 1899, 109 scholars have been registered, three of whom are out of town pupils. This is the highest number ever registered in one year.

The attendance during the year has been excellent. Faithful work has been done by nearly all the pupils, and the results in general have been satisfactory to the teachers.

Respectfully submitted,

J. F. ROACHE.

Millbury, Feb. 13, 1900.

The Establishment of the Millbury High School.

Previous to the year 1851 there was no High school in the town, and an education above the grammar grades was obtained at the Millbury Academy.

April 1, 1850, it was voted to refer article 6th of the town warrant, concerning a high school, to a committee to be chosen one from each district and that this committee should report at the next March meeting. The following were appointed as the committee: Simeon Waters, Leonard Dwinnell, Samuel Waters, C. R. Miles, Josiah L. Woodward, Oliver Rice and Simeon Haywood. March 4, 1851, it was voted that the town have a high school, and that a committee of seven be chosen to bring in plans and estimates at the April meeting. J. E. Waters, Horace Waters, A. H. Waters, E. W. Goffe, Josiah L. Woodward, John E. Bacon and Henry Park were the committee.

April 7, the committee reported, and it was voted to choose a committee of three and that they be instructed to purchase the Millbury Academy estate, provided it could be purchased on the conditions of the report; the committee was appointed by the chair and consisted of the following: C. R. Miles, Andrus March and Mowry Farnum; $1,500 was appropriated as part payment of the Academy estate and the Selectmen were authorized to borrow $500 to make the first payment; it was also voted to raise $500 for the support of the high school for the current year. In 1852, $750 was voted, and in 1853, $1,000. In 1870, the appropriation for the High school was merged in that of the public schools, $6,006; and in 1880 it was voted that the old Old Town Hall be turned over to the School Committee to be used for school purposes; in 1888, $3,500 was appopriated for repairing the high school building.

In 1872 the first public graduation occurred. The following list contains the names of all graduates since that time.

It has been impossible to secure the names of all who completed the prescribed course before this:
